N. H. STATE HEALTH DEPT.

Box 255, Derry, N. H.

January 11, 1956

Town Clerk
Londonderry, N. H.

Dear Sir:—

The following may be of interest to you for your town report.

The State Health department in cooperation with your local school department held two polio clinics in your town in 1956.

At the first clinic on May 1st, 1956, 308 received their first polio inoculation.

On the 23rd of October, 1956, 225 persons attended.

Of these 25 received 1st inoculations and 200 returned for their second injection.

Others who did not return, we assumed had gone to their own physician prior to the clinic.

As soon as the proper period of time has elapsed, we hope to hold a clinic to finish the series of shots.

Three child health conferences were also held at the town hall, sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary under the direction of the nurse in your town, Mrs. Jeannette Bernier, R. N. Forty-two infants and pre-school children attended these conferences. The doctor in attendance was Dr. Bryce D. Smith of Manchester.

The children were examined by him—16 were vaccinated against small pox; 17 received inoculations against Diptheria, whooping cough and tetanus (lock jaw).

I wish to thank all who helped in making my program a success.

Sincerely,
Jeannette B. Bernier, R. N.
Public Health Nurse

REPORT OF THE HELPING TEACHER

As the helping teacher, I have spent a majority of my time in the classrooms of the union as this is not an administrative position, but one to help meet classroom problems. There are several reasons for classroom visits and these include the following: to obtain information as a background for a discussion of problems, to acquire a better understanding of some of the problems, an opportunity to suggest a different approach in some fields of work, an opportunity to coordinate the work in the schools, and to observe pupils as a basis for discussions with pupils and parents. Other activities of the helping teacher include: conferences (with parents, teachers, and pupils), teaching demonstration lessons, reviewing text needs, making curriculum studies, charting test results, in-service training for teachers, and aiding in the preparation of educational materials.

Teaching in an elementary school has become a very complex process. Additional burdens and responsibilities have been added gradually over a period of years. A changing civilization is bound to require a change in the demands made upon its schools and the committee for the White House Conference on Education believes that this broadening of the goals should be recognized as legitimate. Your teachers are certainly in accord with the belief that every child should have an opportunity to become a good citizen with high moral, ethical, and spiritual values; trained in leisure-time activities; with a knowledge of health and safety factors; trained for a wholesome family life and having good mental health; with an understanding of the problems America faces in international relations through an education geared to the needs and abilities of the individual child.

Your teachers are striving to meet these goals through an enriched basic program, lessons and activities for health and personal development, consideration for those at each end of the ability scale, opening exercises, observances for special days and events, and introducing leisure-time activities. Valuable lessons are also taught in the hot lunch program, gym classes, team games, intramural sports, glee clubs, and school programs for the entire day has to be considered for teaching opportunities.

The teachers in our supervisory union realize the responsibilities placed upon the schools and they have felt the need of additional training to help them meet these responsibilities which have increased for the schools while decreasing in many homes. The sixty-nine teachers in this union will have earned approximately 150 credits in the one-year period ending this summer. (Each credit equals the satisfactory completion of fifteen hours of classroom instruction, outside readings, and project work under a qualified college instructor.)

In view of the additional aims for our educational system, we must now evaluate our program and consider some of the following problems:

1. The amount of time to be given in each subject area.
2. The value of time-consuming activities of teachers in non-teaching school activities.

3. The consideration to be given at each extreme in the wide range of abilities within the class. In keeping with a general trend throughout the nation, the spring institutes for the teachers in this section of the state will be concerned with the evaluating of elementary and secondary schools. It is hoped that we may make a self-evaluation of all phases of our school program during the next year.

Respectfully submitted,
E. Russell Raymond

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Londonderry School Board:

I herewith submit my fifteenth annual report as superintendent of schools of Londonderry.

STATISTICAL REPORTS

The total enrollment for grades one through eight for the period January 15th, 1957 was 340 as compared to 352 for the same period last year, 324 two years ago and 306 three years previous.

The membership by grades for January 15th, 1957 follows:

Graduation exercises were held on Friday, June 15th, 1956. Thirty-one pupils received certificates following appropriate exercises presented by the graduates, under the direction of the teachers. Those who completed the eighth grade were:

The enrollment again shows an increase. It is more than double the enrollment of 1947. With the exception of the current second grade no grade below the sixth has an enrollment of less than 40. As was stated in last year's report the need for providing an additional room can be met by partitioning the area originally planned for an assembly room into three class rooms instead of the present two. This would be a stop gap arrangement and could possibly meet the problem until the current bond payments are reduced both in principal and interest. At that time, if the current trend continues, some plan of expansion may have to be involved.

There is no indication that the current trend will stop. Kiplinger in the news letter of December 22nd, 1956, gathers the most recent figures on population trends. The year 1956 exceeded any previous year in the number of births (4,200,000 in round figures). The publication also predicts an increase in elementary enrollment of 30% by 1965 and of 50% in secondary enrollment. Although the problem of housing is a serious one, the more critical, locally, is the teacher supply. The White House Conference selected as one of the areas of greatest concern—"How can we get enough good teachers—and keep them?" It is estimated that the total demand for teachers by 1965 will be increased by about 1/3. The problem then becomes one of attracting enough people to meet the demand.

The conference lists many suggestions that can help meet the problem. Those that are concerned with curriculum at the college level and the certification of teachers are problems that cannot be solved at the local level. Improving the economic and social status of teachers is the phase of teacher recruitment that can be attacked at the local level. There are generally three areas that should be utilized to meet this problem. The economic status is handled through salary. The beginning salary should keep pace with salaries generally, so as to keep the schools in a good competitive position. The salary range from beginning to ultimate salary should have sufficient range to be attractive. The second area concerns itself with working conditions. The teacher is concerned with work load—size of class, extra curricula duties, and assignments consonant with preparation and experience. Administration can help improve working conditions by providing adequate materials to make the teaching process more efficient. This means adequate scholars supplies, books, workbooks, visual aids, and duplicating machines. In providing these materials the teachers' work is made easier and more difficult. Easier because the tools are available to meet the task. More difficult because the materials are available to meet the problems of each child. The teacher too has a responsibility. That responsibility is to improve as an individual and to assist in up grading the whole profession. If this is done, the whole profession will be worthy of the improved status given to teachers by society.

The expanding curriculum is making it imperative that teachers everywhere improve their professional training and command of subject matter. The White House conference recognized 15 goals that the schools should achieve. One aim is to acquaint students with countries, other than their own. This aim we try to meet in a narrow sense. Our neighbors, north and south, are the subject of intensive study in geography and history. The economic well being of this country is interwoven with the success or failure of our neighbors. The more we can learn about them the greater chance of solving any difficulties amicably. Another area that we try to stress is safety. The society of which we are a part is increasingly devoting time and effort to decreasing the incidence of accidents at home, on the highway, at work and at play. If we can by instruction cut down the number of accidents we will have achieved a great deal. Another area that the members of the White House Conference felt the schools should make a contribution to was a program to foster mental health. The terrific pace of modern civilization takes a toll of broken lives annually. If we can foster anything that will contribute to the mental well being of individuals, we will add to the economic wealth of the nation. These programs seem far removed from the 3 R's. Society, however, is asking the schools to solve more and more the problems that are troublesome to it. As the schools successfully meet these new challenges our society can advance to newer heights.

The district was again fortunate to have but one replacement. Mrs. Helen Raymond was engaged to succeed Mrs. Ethel Klein. The additional teacher, George Sullivan, a beginner, was secured to free Mr. Walsh for administrative duties. Geographical location, good staff relations and a cooperative attitude on the part of parents, townspeople and pupils enable the school to retain the personnel over a period of time.

Finance

Some slight increases are noted in all areas. One area, instruction, has most of the increase in the whole budget. This is due to one additional teacher and increases for the entire staff. The increase in the operational budget is $7,710.97. Increases in anticipated income result in a net increase of $4,267.58. With an additional teacher and increased cost of supplies, both instructional and maintenance, this increase in levy is not surprising.

The morale of the staff is high. This factor is important in the retention of staff members. It is high because of the spirit of cooperation that is prevalent in the school community. It is pleasant to work in such a situation.

Everton H. Parkinson
